To protect the rights of the minority communities in India, every year on 18th December "Minorities Rights Day" is celebrated. No doubt every nation has different ethnic, linguistic, and religious minority groups. The Constitution of India provides equal rights for all citizens and adapted several measures for safeguarding the rights of linguistic, ethnic, cultural, and religious minorities. Also, it takes care of those people who are economically or socially disadvantaged people irrespective of their caste, culture, and community including the people of scheduled tribes and scheduled castes.

Minority's Rights Day is celebrated by the National commission for minorities in India which focuses on religious harmony, respect, and a better understanding of all minorities communities. United Nations on 18th December 1992 adopted and broadcast the statement on the individual rights belonging to religious or linguistic national or ethnic minorities. The announcement made by the United Nations highlights the cultural, religious linguistic and national identity of the minorities that shall be respected, preserved, and protected by the states and within individual territories. And also state government to improve the condition of minorities and spread awareness about their national linguistic, religious and cultural identity.

On 29th January 2006, the ministry of minority affairs is carved out of the ministry of social justice and environment to ensure a more focused approach towards the issues relating to the noticed minority communities namely Muslim, Christian, Buddhist, Sikh, Parsis and Jain. For the benefit of minority communities, the ministry generates overall policy and planning, co-ordination, evaluation and review of the regulatory framework and development program.

In Deogiri College Aurangabad, National Service Scheme (NSS) unit celebrates “Minorities Rights Day” on 19th December 2022. On this occasion Vice Principal Dr. Mrs. Aparna S. Taware gives the talk on the same subject and guided the student. Initially, five religious communities namely Muslim, Christians, Sikh, Buddhist and Parsis. Further according to the notification detail of 27th January 2014, Jains have also been noticed as a minority community. The functions of the state commission are to safeguard and protect the interests of minorities provided in the constitution and the laws enacted by the parliament and the state legislatures. Therefore, minority’s rights day in India is observed on 18th December annually to educate people and focus on the rights of minorities in India.”

REPORT

Vegan Outreach is a nonprofit organization working to end violence towards animals. They seek a future when sentient animals are no longer exploited as commodities. They focus on reaching the people who are motivated enough to make changes now—there are always many in their target audience who just need some guidance. Founded in 1993, they have been most known for their massive outreach program of leafleting on college campuses.

NSS cell, Dr. BAMU organizes one online workshop in collaboration with Vegan Outreach. Twenty five volunteers from Department of NSS, Deogiri College, Chhatrapati Sambhajnagar participated in this online training program. At its peak, they were handing booklets to over 1 million students at 1,000 schools per semester. By steadily increasing the number of vegans, they are laying the groundwork to reach a tipping point in which sweeping public policy changes for animals will become realistic.

Satvik Vegan Society (formerly Indian Vegan Society), founded by Shankar Narayan in 2004, is a registered public charitable trust. It is a member of the International Vegetarian Union (IVU, headquartered in the UK) and the Federation of Indian Animal Protection Organisations (FIAPO, headquartered in New Delhi).
